

ABSTRACT

This invention relates generally to carbon fiber produced from single-wall carbon nanotube (SWNT) molecular arrays. In one embodiment, the present invention involves a macroscopic carbon fiber comprising at least about  $10^6$  single-wall carbon nanotubes in generally parallel orientation.